Forward contract prices opened lower this morning. US packers are restraining from increasing their cash bids this week as evidenced by the small estimate for yesterday's slaughter of 373,000 hogs. However, cash bids are up 60% from the same time period last year, when exports were limited and the market was feeling the early impacts of H1N1. Packers have been successful in triggering a recovery to their operating margins, which are currently estimated at $12.00/hog. Yesterday, the Canadian Dollar regained most of its losses from last week as world markets reflected confidence in the emergency measures taken by the E.U. June – August forward contract prices have been unable to make any sizable gains to meet current cash prices, despite the higher trend in cash prices typically seen over this timeframe.

Canadian delivered soymeal prices opened lower this morning. The soybean complex is trading lower this morning despite a weaker U.S. Dollar. Projected supplies for soybeans are approximately 3.5 billion bushels. This is unchanged from last year as beginning stocks offset lower production according to the USDA WASDE Report.

Canadian delivered corn prices opened lower this morning. Corn markets are trading lower this morning, being influenced by high supply forecasts projected to be near 13.4 billion bushels (up 260 million from last year) according to the USDA WASDE Report. Corn seedlings continue to establish at a rapid pace, contributing to these estimates.
